CHEMISTRY

This full year course was taught by Mr. Patterson to the Senior class which consisted of only six pupils. Chemistry is the study of the ninety-six elements. All materials are made up of mixtures and compounds of the ninety-six elements. We need more Chemistry today than ever before.

TYPING I

The first period after dinner found the Juniors hard at work in the typing room. The first few weeks were spent in learning the key board. Then came weeks of speed and accuracy drills. During the latter part of the year several budgets of letters and personal typing problems and various forms of letters were typed. Mr. Crawford was the teacher.

TYPING II

Six Seniors made up the Typing II class this year. With speed and accuracy drills, several budgets of telegrams and letters were typed. The "Gem Tiger" school paper was put out by this class monthly. Mr. Crawford was the teacher.

AMERICAN HISTORY

As the name applies, this is the history of America from the time it came in to being up to the present time. This class consisted of six Seniors and two Juniors, with Mr. Patterson as the teacher.

WORLD HISTORY

World history is the story of man and his way of living from the beginning up to the present time. The Freshmen and Sophomores took this course, with Mr. Crawford as the teacher.

AMERICAN HISTORY

The second period after dinner found the Juniors and Seniors hard at work learning more about government and its functions. American Government is the study of our institutions and functions of government. Beginning the second semester we took Psychology. Psychology is the study of human behavior. It was a very interesting subject.

GENERAL SCIENCE

As the name applies it is a science in general. It is an introductory course to all other sciences. Some work in the sciences such as Biology, Chemistry, Psychology, is included in this course. The Freshmen and Sophomores took this course with Mr. Patterson as teacher.

ALGEBRA

The Algebra class of 53-54 consisted of twelve Sophomores and Freshmen, six boys and six girls. We used two texts supplemented with tests and drills. Algebra is a mathematical science which bolsters our arithmetical process and prepares us for higher courses in the field of math, such as Geometry and Trigonometry.

ENGLISH I,II,III

English classes studied grammar, read literature, made book reports, and wrote paragraphs, essays and short reports. We alternated each six weeks the study of grammar and literature. English I class supplemented the English in Action text book with work books.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

There were just four studious pupils in Industrial art class this year, two boys and two girls with Mr. Patterson as the teacher. P.K's project was a mahogany chest and a lawn chair while Vernon worked on a desk. Carl made a boat while Rose worked on a maple book case.

SENIOR CLASS

We the Seniors of 1953-54 enrolled in Gem Consolidated High-School in the year of 1950. We were then as follows: Betty Lou Mentlick, Phyllis Kay Bugbee, Rose Mae Burke, Betty Ruth Hopson, Vernon Lee Flanigin, Kenneth Dean Havice, and Carl Edward Mellor.

Our Sophomore year, we were the same except we lost Kenneth Havice, and gained Elizabeth Miller. The Freshman Class was small that year, so we let them off with a light initiation, with the agreement that we would help them initiate the Freshman Class the next year. This worked well since they were a large class and the Sophomores needed our assistance.

Our Junior year we were composed of the same group as we were the preceding year. We took out our wrath on the Freshman Class, that was seething for two years, according to the agreement we made with the Sophomore Class.

Our Senior year, we were sorry to lose Betty Hopson. This year we are busy with the annual and school paper. We also are heavily engaged in serving at games. We are actively participating in the Junior-Senior Play. All of us are looking forward to our Senior Sneak, we have invited Robert Lee Sadler of the Junior Class to go along with us.

Vernon and Phyllis are the only students of our class that have gone through school at Gem all the way from the first grade.

Looking back on the years we have gone through school together it has not been as difficult as it has seemed at times. We have accomplished what we set out to do and much hard work is now behind us.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1953-54, of the city of Gem County of Thomas, and State of Kansas, being of sound mind and memory hereby make this our last will and testament.

First, to the Juniors we leave our row in the study hall and the name as Seniors.

To the Sophomores we leave all our wasted study halls maybe they could get something done.

To the Freshmen we leave all our pencil stubs and our years of school.

To the faculty we leave our appreciation for their help in our years in school.

Second, our remaining chattels with which we regret fully part.

I Betty, will all my old dates to Elta Mae, and may she have more fun with them than I did.

I P.Kay, will my ability to silliness to Mary Beth because she has such a good start.

I Elizabeth, will all the dates I didn't get to Darlene.

I Carl, will all my height to Fred Loseke.

I Rose Mae, will my good advice on boys to Evelyn W. she needs it!

Vernon and Carl cheerfully will all the missed baskets to the underclassmen.

I Betty, will my atheletic ability to Ronnie B. in hope that he will be a great professional star.

I P.Kay, will my temper to Bob since he never gets mad.

I Elizabeth, will my ability to woo men at carnivals to Doreen.

I P.Kay, will my ability to Mary Lee on how to get to know boys.

I Carl, will my typing errors to the next class with the hope that they can conquer them better than I did.

Vernon wills a few of his extra pounds to David who is in need of them.

I Betty, will my ability to get along with the teachers to anyone who needs it.

I Carl, will my ability to work experiments that don't backfire to Mr. Patterson.

To anyone who wants them Vernon leaves all of his old test papers and scratch paper that may be left behind.

I Elizabeth, will my $\frac{1}{2}$ snes to Bob Davis.

To Ward and Ronald H., Vernon leaves all the basketball plays which didn't work in hopes they will make them "Click"

We the Seniors of 1954 will all the old articles left in our desks to the oncoming clasamen.

CLASS PROPHECY

While I was aboard the Great Queen Mary on my way to Great Britain for the Coronation of 1964, there was a great commotion on deck and people were pulling someone aboard. There was frantic yelling. I dashed out of my cabin to see what was going on and lo-and-behold who should I see floundering around on deck but Carl Mellor. Yes, he was swimming the Atlantic. I rushed over to him and I proudly said, "I do." as people were asking if anyone knew him. After all, not everyone can swim the Atlantic in four and a half days.

After Carl had gotten some warm clothes on and a bite to eat he came to my cabin and we had a most joyous visit. He told me he was swimming the Atlantic to prove to his beloved little wife, which by the way was the former Rita Smith, that he was good for something besides splitting atoms and going to Mars every five years. I told him I was sure she would be proud of him. Carl and Rita are living 16 miles north of Wichita and have three adorable children. As time passed on I asked Carl to join me for the Coronation. He said he'd be delighted.

After two more days of sailing we reached the coast of England where Carl and I were taken to the most fabulous hotel in London. It was the largest either of us had ever seen, but when we saw the huge neon light flashing off and on telling the name, Carl and I were both amazed. The sign read, "Flanagin Hotel," 1000 rooms, a bath in each room for only $20 a night and $15 for single rooms. This was very reasonable we thought, so off we went to seek the manager. When we asked to see the manager, we were sent to a luxurios room with carpets approximately six inches deep and velvet drapes hanging from ceiling to floor. As we were gazing around, a tall, dark man came in and in his fully developed masculine voice said, "Yes, what may I do for you?" As Carl and I turned we found him to be no one but the one and only architect, Vernon Flanagin who designed his own hotel and he gets a fabulous sum yearly for his work. We were all three very elated over our long lost acquaintance and visited and discussed for over two hours. Carl and I both were surprised to hear that Vernon wasn't married yet. He said, "Oh it's not that I haven't had plenty of chances and even proposals, but I've never really had much time. However, when Dianna Lynn was over here making her new picture, 'Love Is Where You Find It', we had a most lovely time together. As Vernon kept on talking we found out he and Dianna were to be married in the fall of 1968 which was his turn to go to the states. He always made the trip every two years.

As I glanced at my watch, I noticed it was only two and a half hours before the Coronation and I told the boys I really must be leaving. Carl asked if I would please excuse him if he didn't go but thought he would stay and go with Vernon. I said that would be fine.

Finally, two and half hours later as I seated myself on a ring side seat for the Coronation and awaited the big moment, who should I see seated in front of me two rows but Mrs. Charles Rudolph Chamberland Jr. (the former Rose Mae Burke) waving frantically to draw my attention. Immediately I was saying excuse me a dozen times clambering over people to reach Rosie. It was so good to see her again after nine long years.

I asked her what in the world she was doing here and she answered me assuredly, "Oh, Charles is leading the queen in and I have to be here to throw him a kiss." She told me she had been married to Charles for four years and had two little boys that were just adorable. They played with the queen's little boys all the time. She seemed very happy and when I saw her husband I could easily see why!

Trumpets sounded now announcing the approaching of the queen who was dressed in a most exquisite white satin gown covered with diamonds and pearls. As Rosie and I sat visiting, they were describing the ceremony and the costumes she and her royal highness wore. When they announced the designer of the queen's dress, Rosie and I were both surprised and asked each other if we had heard right, for they had announced that the great Madame Fi Fi Lou Mentlick had designed it. As the designer took a bow we could see her red hair glistening in the bright London sunlight and we knew immediately it was our long lost classmate, Betty (Red) Mentlick. Rosie and I could hardly wait until the reception to talk with her. Finally, after two or three hours of weary sitting the Coronation was over and the reception was getting under way. Betty came up, stood in front of us and was looking all around. I gently tapped her on the shoulder and she quickly turned around. Rosie and I both said, "Hi, Red!" Betty was speechless as she began excitedly telling us what had happened to her within the last ten years. She told us she ran the most exclusive dress shop in London and also had one in Paris. She said she did all of her own modeling which Rosie and I noticed she hadn't lost any of her graceful curves but had put on a little weight around her hips. We each told her our happenings during our last ten years of absence.

Well enough of that, Alas, the reception program is under way and the velvet curtains slowly draw apart and there before our eyes was none but Elizabeth Miller. Oh 'Lizzie' was most enchanting. She had lost approximately 35 pounds and she was a most graceful ballet dancer, so light on her feet. We watched for only a short time it seemed when it was intermission. We went backstage to congratulate her. She was glad to see us and we were glad to find out she was married to a wealthy millionaire. She's very happy both with her ballet dancing and her marriage. She said she was going on tour of the United States within another month and had intended to look us up, that is those who she still kept in touch. A man came in and announced tea was served so we all went out to tea.

After tea, it was getting late so I told the girls I must be going because I had a dinner appointment. I was so glad I had seen all of them and now had their addresses, was sure we could all keep better contact with each other during the next ten years.

As I walked out in the cool of the evening, I had memories renewed and new ones acquired which I shall never forget of the years with my six wonderful classmates.

We took part in the Junior-Senior play, Amateur Hour, and other activities. Also we enjoyed our school parties each month. In sports, Bob took active part in baseball, volleyball, and basketball.

To add to our funds we sold magazines and Bob was the leading salesman in the school having sold $73.00 worth of magazines. The complete class sold $101. 0 of which $44.90 was our share.

FIRST AND SECOND GRADES

There were fifteen children in our room the past year. The five pupils in the first grade were: Gary Adrian; Judy Jensen; Ivy Reed; Connie Willcox; and Raymond Haremza. The ten children in the second grade were: Dorothy Flanagan; Beth Treat; Jimmy Patterson; Sandra Trail; Sandra Bremenkamp; Sandra Neil; Carlos Saddler; Christine Benda; David Bond and Donald Crane.

Christine Benda and Carlos Saddler started with us at the first of the term, they came from Halford. David Bond moved here from Rexford and entered school January 18. Donnie Crane moved here from Colby and entered school January 28.

Our attendance was very regular except for a few days of flu and Christmas vacation outside of the state. We have enjoyed reading many books from our good library. We also had lots of fun celebrating holidays and birthdays during the year.

THIRD AND FOURTH GRADES

Last fall thirteen children enrolled in the third and fourth grades. There were six third graders and seven in the fourth grade.

We were glad to welcome Carroll Case, Eugene Houston; and Carol Saddler into our group. They had been attending school at Halford. At the end of January, Larry Crane enrolled in the third grade. He had been going to Colby to school. He was a welcome addition to our room.

We had a Hallowe'en Party and a Valentine Party which we greatly enjoyed. Patty Sowers joined the band the second semester. All of the children were very regular in attendance throughout the entire year. Each birthday was celebrated with a small party. We spent many enjoyable hours together.

FIFTH AND SIXTH GRADES

School opened Aug. 31, 1953 with an enrollment of seventeen.

Eight pupils in the fifth grade were: Johnnie Weishaar; Duene Anderson; Ray Conran; Freddie Bourquin; Dean Ziegelmeyer; Colin Case; Rita Saddler; and Jeff Reed. Ray came to us from St. Joseph Mo. and Colin from Halford.

In the sixth grade there were: Patty Wolfe; Loretta Hisard; Gary Graham; Irene Regnier; and Judy Young. Colleen came to us from Halford and Judy left us to go to Nebraska with her parents. Mrs. Souders was the teacher.

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADES

On August 31, 1953, school opened with fifteen pupils enrolled in our room. The eighth grade had six of the pupils: Larry Burke; Hulda Haremza; Verl Havice; Toby Skeers; Dorothy Cochran; and Kathrine Treat. Our Seventh grade had only two girls; Rosa Lea Trail and Betty Haremza, while the boys numbered seven: Marvin Barnett; Gary Saddler; Jerry Davis; John Flanegin; Larry Higerd; Delbert Graham and Connie Skeers. We were very sorry to lose the Skeers boys in November, when they moved to Colorado.

We participated in the programs for Education Week and Christmas, as well as furnished 9 band members who took part in the band concerts. Our girls are in the grade girls chorous.

We have been active in Grade sports, although we failed to capture a trophy at the tournament held at Gem in January. We have not been a "push over" in either boys or girls games during the regular season.

In our academic work, we have done serious work, realizing how much we had to cover and how short our time really was. Both grades have covered both the seventh and eighth grade books, "Adventures in Reading," trying to gain reading ease and fluency in speech. We used work books in English, emphasizing sentence structure and parts of speech, and work books also in mathematics, to help us with the fundamentals. Grade seven has covered both Kansas Geography and Kansas History, while Grade Eight has concretated on American History with our good text, "This is America's Story."

Altogether we feel we had a profitable and pleasant year, one to live long in memory. Mrs. Treat was our teacher.

GEM TIGER

This is the fifth year for the Gem Tiger which was published once a month by the following staff: Editor, Vernon Flanagin; Associate Editor, Rose Mae Burke; Sports Editor, Carl Mellor; Class News, P.K. Bugbee; Feature Articles, Betty Mentlick; Joke Page, Elizabeth Miller and our sponsor was Mr. Crawford. We have enjoyed putting out the paper and hope the patrons have enjoyed reading it.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR BANQUET

The Juniors of last year decorated the music room for the Jr. and Sr. banquet. Our theme was "Fantasy of the Deep" and chicken of the sea was our main food with all the trimmings. We made most of our decorations which were mainly fish of the sea and one big mermaid. After the banquet, we all went to Colby to the show which was "Pony Express." It was enjoyed by all.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS

There were four assembly programs sent out by the University of Kansas and sponsored by the Senior Class. The first program was the Magician, September 22. The second program was the Fire Arm Lecture, October 14. The third program was the Bell Ringer, November 13. Our last program was the Archer March 18. The programs this year were exceptionally good and everyone turned out to see and enjoy them.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

Our play last year was "Hill Billy Weddin'" in which we all participated in and had a lot of fun putting it on. The cast consisted of about the whole high school.

SENIOR SNEAK

This year there were only two Juniors and they joined with the Seniors and Bob went on the Annual Senior sneak. The Seniors helped the Juniors serve in the lunch room at basketball games.

BAND

This made the fifth year for our band and all years but the first we have had a concert. We wish to thank Mrs. Crawford who started up our band. There were four Seniors in band: Betty Mentlick; Vernon Flanagin; Rose Burke; and P.Kay Bugbee. We gave two concerts this year, one on December 14, and another one in the spring. The band is going to Spring Festival again this year at Oberlin. The band consisted of 26 members. Miss Barbara Haygood was our new leader this year.
